

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Praxis welcomes submissions of essays, projects and responses to articles presented herein. Materials submitted are subject to editorial review and/ or external refereeing. We regret that we cannot return submissions unless accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped return envelope. All issues of Praxis issues are themed, so projects or articles are selected in light of each issue's particular subject.

Guidelines for Submissions of Text Articles

Praxis welcomes submissions of essays and articles. Please send us a query letter, abstract, or outline of your manuscript. A cover letter should describe your thesis or proposal and how it might relate to a larger theme in the journal. If images are critical to your essay, please include clear reproductions. If you are submitting an abstract or letter, a short writing sample that demonstrates your writing skills is helpful.

Digital files are strongly preferred to hard copies but letter-size Xeroxes are acceptable, if submitted in triplicate. Acceptable file formats are Microsoft Word Rich Text Format or Quark Xpress. Please do not send MS Word .doc files, as we are unable to read them across platforms.

Inform the editors whether the manuscript has been presented, published, or submitted for publication elsewhere. Praxis will not ordinarily reprint articles, however we will consider material appearing in forthcoming books or anthologies or in translation.

Guidelines for Submissions of Design Work

Praxis encourages design professionals to keep us apprised of projects as they are awarded, in progress, and completed. Please provide a brief written description of the ideas, intents and program and either digital or reproduced images. Please send edited documentation of representative plans, sections, and relevant conceptual sketches, model photos, construction photos, snapshots and, if available, final images. The materials sent should provide a clear explanation of the project, rather than an exhaustive representation.

In the early stages of submission, it is generally easier for us to receive electronic files, but letter-size Xeroxes in triplicate are acceptable, if the images read clearly. Digital images should be either TIFF or JPG format, no larger than 1500 pixels in either dimension. Please do not send irreplaceable art.

Correspondence

As our staff and editorial board work in various locations, we can more quickly respond to electronic files.

Send all submissions to: Ashley Schafer, editor, Praxis PO Box 3633, Columbus, OH 43210-0633 or to: submissions@praxisjournal.net. Unsolicited manuscripts must be accompanied by a self-addressed envelope with sufficient postage to ensure their return if not accepted. All submissions shall include the address and telephone number of each author.
